Application Onboarding Tool

Connect Everything. Securely.

Application Onboarding is Expensive and Time Consuming

Traditionally, an organization's application onboarding journey is lengthy and expensive. Ultimately, this often becomes the hurdle that stands between an identity organization and the value they intend to achieve from their Identity Implementation.

With Accenture's Application Onboarding Tool, organizations can achieve a factory onboarding model through the power of centralized and automated application onboarding.

The Application Onboarding Tool is Purpose Built to Accelerate

With the Application Onboarding Tool organizations and their implementation teams can accelerate, reduce the risk, and reduce the effort of the onboarding journey.

Powered by this methodology and toolset, Accenture has seen organizations achieve true factory onboarding models, ensuring that their 1000s of applications are secure.
